Preamble

The Building Engineering Faculty of the Mouloud MAMMERI University of Tizi-Ouzou is honored to host the "International Conference on Engineering Sciences for a Sustainable Environment – ICESSE'25", a significant event bringing together researchers, students, and professionals in engineering and environmental sciences. This conference aims to explore scientific and technological advancements in engineering and environmental sustainability.

This edition follows the seminar held in previous years: CMMS08 and CMMS14. It seeks to expand its scientific activities by strengthening partnerships between academic stakeholders and key players in the socio-economic sector.

The Faculty of Construction Engineering is proud to serve as a hub for interdisciplinary ideas and exchanges. This event aspires to reinforce international collaborations and promote innovative approaches to addressing global environmental challenges, offering a platform for reflection and discussion towards sustainable, environmentally respectful development.

We invite you to actively contribute to this prestigious event to advance research and innovation in service of the planet. Participants will have the opportunity to discuss technological advances and concrete projects aimed at improving the fields of Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Hydraulic Engineering, Energy Efficiency, and Environmental Engineering on local, national, and international scales.
